

For Immediate Release
May 4, 2022

Contact: Loren Allen
General Counsel/Dir. of Government Relations
lallen@wvbankers.org | 304.343.8838

West Virginia Bankers Association Announces 2022 Primary Election WVBankPAC Candidate Endorsements

Charleston, WV – WVBankPAC, the political action committee of the West Virginia Bankers Association (WVBankers) announced candidate endorsements for the 2022 West Virginia Primary Election. WVBankPAC is committed to identifying legislative candidates based on their support for the banking industry and economic growth and development in West Virginia.

“Our banks are the economic engines that keep the communities that they serve moving forward. These candidates demonstrate an advanced understanding of this roll in the financial services marketplace in West Virginia,” said Sally Cline, WVBankers President and CEO. “They understand that our financial institutions are uniquely positioned to identify and serve the needs of their communities and they are committed to ensuring that banking in West Virginia remains unimpeded by irrational interventionist and overly restrictive laws and regulations.”

WVBankers Senate Primary Endorsements 2022

District 5 Mike Woelfel (D)
District 8 Joshua Higginbotham (R)
District 10 Steven Baldwin (D)
District 13 Mike Oliverio (R)
District 15 Charles Trump, IV (R)

WVBankers House Primary Endorsements 2022

District 9	Trenton Barnhart (R)	District 55	Moore Capito (R)
District 11	Bob Fehrenbacher (R)	District 57	Doug Skaff (D)
District 12	Vernon Criss, (R)	District 59	Dianna Graves (R)
District 12	Steve Westfall (R)	District 62	Roger Hanshaw (R)
District 27	Chad Lovejoy (D)	District 66	Paul Espinosa (R)

###

The West Virginia Bankers Association, founded in 1891 and headquartered in Charleston, represents the state’s financial institutions and their employees. The Association provides continuing education, develops and monitors state and federal legislative agendas, distributes information on all components of the financial industry, and promotes the public image of West Virginia’s banking industry. The mission of WVBankers is to represent and support its members, enabling them to provide a full range of quality financial products and services to benefit the communities they serve.

